VISION
Expanding the places and ways we serve older adults.

MISSION
The mission of Goodwin House is to support, honor, and uplift the lives of older adults and the people who care for them through a faith-based, nonprofit organization affiliated with the Episcopal Church.

ORGANIZATIONAL VALUES

SERVICE
The call to service is the foundation of our mission.

INTEGRITY
We value the trust of others and by our actions endeavor to be worthy of that trust.

COMMUNITY
We seek to create and sustain strong and caring communities where those who live, work, and visit will find places of welcome and belonging.

INDIVIDUALITY
We believe that each person is of sacred worth. We celebrate the uniqueness and diversity of the members of our community.

LEADERSHIP & LEARNING
We seek to learn so that we can lead.

EXCELLENCE
What we do, we will do well. We strive for excellence in capability and execution.

HERITAGE
We honor and remember the wisdom, charity, and dedication of those who created this organization, and seek to serve with the purpose and faith they intended.

GROWTH
We commit to broaden and extend our charitable purpose and mission through thoughtful and prudent growth.

Goodwin House Foundation

MISSION
The mission of Goodwin House Foundation is to generate resources for Goodwin House, to provide support for current and future residents in need, and to fund programs dedicated to seniors’ well-being and vibrant living.

Dear Friends,

Well over 50 years ago, the founders of Goodwin House set about to create an organization that would serve older adults in a new way, purpose-built and purpose-intended, to be of partnership and service for whatever life required and however life unfolded.

Our founders were driven by the mantra: Exploring Possibilities

In August 1967, that openness to possibility and that mindset of exploration, resulted in the opening of the first Goodwin House community, now called Goodwin House Alexandria.

For 50 years, those who lead Goodwin House, those who are served by Goodwin House, and those who expect more from Goodwin House have been beckoned forth by this vision – explore the possibilities. We never stop exploring possibilities for service, for business models, for housing, for new ways to lead, for new ways to achieve the Goodwin House vision of expanding the places and ways to serve older adults.

Explore Possibilities –
- Give thanks and acclamation for those whose leadership, expertise, wisdom and humility brought us this far
- Acknowledge that the definition of “those who lead” includes governing bodies of trustees and directors; staff at all levels of service; those we serve – residents, member and those yet to be named; and community partners
- Commit to continue exploring possibilities. With excitement and enthusiasm, Goodwin House commits to making our 50th year (2017) and all the years that follow a worthy response to the privilege to serve as the opportunities for service open, dramatically and powerfully, before us.

We hope you love reading this Annual Report for Fiscal Year 2016. Thank you for the many ways you support us, encourage us and inspire us to explore further, deeper, and better.

With best wishes,

Anam Yasin
Front Desk Receptionist

Anam Yasin has been a member of the Goodwin House Alexandria team since 2013. She began her GH career as a server in the Dining Services Department, where she quickly distinguished herself as a warm and caring person intent on providing exceptional customer service to residents and guests alike. By all accounts, she was one of the most dependable and well-liked people in the department. Anam transferred to the Front Desk, where she became the primary staff person on the evening shift. Once again, she distinguished herself as a genuinely caring person who makes everyone she serves feel as if they are the most important person in the room. She receives constant praise from residents, guests, peers, and supervisors for her dedication, can-do attitude, and willingness to sacrifice personal time and energy to get the job done, all with residents’ satisfaction and comfort in mind. She has proven to be loyal, dependable, fun loving, warm, and a recognized role model of what is good about Goodwin House and its mission to support, honor and uplift the lives of older adults and the people who care for them.

GOODWIN HOUSE BAILEY’S CROSSROADS

Jade Perry
Service Coordinator, Facilities Management/Environmental Services

We all know when a voice on the phone is smiling on the other end. Sometimes this voice is helpful, compassionate, caring, professional, concerned, and happy. At GHBC, that voice is Jade Perry. Jade exudes concern as she reaches out with a personal question or suggestion. She directs people and assists those in need with a helping hand and a smile. She has a deep understanding and history with Goodwin House, having been hired in 2011 shortly after the Pointe opened. She transferred to a new and exciting position in 2016, where her skill set continued to grow and where she is always looking for new ways to improve old processes. “That’s how we have always done it” is a foreign idea to Jade. Busy days are no match for her as she empowers others to provide assistance when necessary, and she doesn’t hesitate to ask for help when the going gets tough. She seeks ways to make experiences positive, even when faced with difficulties or disappointment. Jade always looks for avenues of success even when the task at hand seems impossible such as when hot water to an entire tier suddenly goes cold or when the TV signal goes out just before a Washington Redskins game. We are fortunate to have Jade as part of our team. She means so much not only to GHBC, but to Goodwin House as a whole.

Zainab Thomas
MSN – Nurse Practitioner, Clinic/Health & Wellness

GHBC Nurse Practitioner Zainab Thomas embodies the Goodwin House Quality Pledge every day. She consistently strives to provide the highest quality of care to residents, and she advocates for them to achieve the best possible outcome. She treats everyone she meets with respect and dignity, appreciating others’ life experiences. Zainab has had tremendous impact on residents, meeting their care needs with a high level of expertise. She works autonomously, is always thorough, and weighs all options before developing a plan. She consistently follows up with residents after seeing them to ensure all of their needs are met. GHBC recently held a satisfaction survey for services she provides, and all the residents are extremely pleased with her care. Zainab is well respected by her peers and all those who work with her. She continues to be a resource for everyone to improve the work we do. We are very fortunate to have Zainab on the GHBC team.

EXPLORING POSSIBILITIES
May 10, 2016 was a special day for Gant Redmon, Chair of the Goodwin House Foundation Board. This was the day that he was presented with the 2016 Annie B. Rose Award by the City of Alexandria’s Commission on Aging. The Award honored Gant as “an individual whose exemplary achievements span a lifetime of public service and whose achievements have been devoted to significantly enhancing the community, especially to advance social justice and aging concerns.” He was nominated by the GH Foundation for his lifetime of volunteer service to the City of Alexandria, specifically raising funds to serve seniors throughout the region.

Since 2006, Gant has served as Chair of the Goodwin House Foundation Board of Directors. “Together We Serve” is his trademark sign-off on the hundreds of emails he has sent to us throughout those years. Under his leadership, the Foundation undertook a fundraising campaign that raised more than $4.5 million to expand the Goodwin House Fellowship Program, which guarantees that Goodwin House residents never will have to leave their Goodwin House homes should they outlive their financial resources.

Gant Redmon is a man whose formidable energy, intellect, and connections have raised millions for Goodwin House and other local charities.

In addition to his volunteer work, Gant is managing partner of Redmon, Peyton and Braswell, LLP, practicing law in Northern Virginia since 1964. As an estate planning attorney, he helps seniors plan financially sound futures.

Goodwin House Foundation proudly nominated Gant Redmon for the 2016 Annie B. Rose Award, and we were overjoyed with his selection. As Mr. Redmon would say, “Together we serve!”
Five years ago, Goodwin House Alexandria (GHA) began planning for the new Goodwin House Alexandria Health Care Center (HCC) that will feature private rooms with private bathrooms. The original vision of “person-driven” care for residents eventually grew to become “Small Houses,” a new delivery model of care, vastly different from the outdated traditional, medical, and institutional models used in hospitals.

To say Goodwin House was exploring possibilities of care would be an understatement. As we planned for providing private health care rooms, we soon realized we could create spaces that followed the Small House model. With this type of care delivery, residents are the center of life, and the spaces are designed to support “person-driven” care rather than designed for the services provided by nursing staff.

Goodwin House Alexandria did not stop there. While envisioning what we would become, we began exploring possibilities for new dining venues, a more extensive fitness center, a more expansive creative art center and gallery, an improved rehabilitative therapy center, and a library that supports residents’ love of books (hardback or electronic) and their burning desire to stay current on events through periodicals and various news publications.

In November 2016, GHA transitioned from exploring possibilities to planning and building. Excitement was at every turn as we watched concepts become reality. Ground was prepared for the new HCC. Dozens of trucks removed load after load of dirt. A 17-story crane was erected and massive amounts of concrete were poured. The building began to take shape, one floor at a time. Skeletal metal framing was transformed into a building with a brick façade framing expansive windows. We moved from exploring possibilities to seeing a completion date of May 2017 with residents moving into the new Small Houses by mid-June 2017.

2016 was a year of exploring possibilities, and 2017 will be a year of successful renovations and widespread changes to how GHA serves residents, family members, visitors, staff, and friends. Fifty years after our opening in 1967, the enhancements, changes, and improvements being undertaken will contribute the most exciting chapter in the history of Goodwin House Alexandria. We boldly entered a new phase of exploring possibilities to further the Goodwin House Vision to expand the places and ways we serve older adults.

At Goodwin House Bailey’s Crossroads (GHBC), resident initiatives abound and we continually are exploring possibilities. From Pilates and yoga to Mah Jong and poker, from the Joy of Music and Broadway musicales to the Quest for Meaning and the Green Team, residents share their interests and talents with their neighbors. Thanks to the depth and breadth of our community members, GHBC has an in-house speakers’ bureau of experts, and residents share their experiences and insights. We even have a section in the library reserved for publications by resident authors.

Due to high occupancy and many new arrivals, residents established a Newcomers Group, which reaches out to those who recently joined our community, making them feel welcomed by providing them with in-depth information and community tours. The meetings have become so popular that residents – new and established – continue to come week after week.

Created and maintained by residents, a resident website provides up-to-date information, photos, events, dining menus, and program offerings.

Wanting to help their neighbors living in the Health Care Center, Rally Around matches residential living residents with Health Care Center residents for regular weekly visits, shared meals, and conversation.

Community outreach comes in many forms at GHBC: setting up the Culmore Clinic each week, knitting sweaters (now more than 2,000) to send to children around the world, providing Thanksgiving dinner for a local shelter (for more than 20 consecutive years), and mentoring Goodwin House staff through an ESOL program supported by the Literacy Council of Northern Virginia.

GHBC residents are founding members of the Virginia Continuing Care Residents Association (VaCCRA), an advocacy and educational organization that represents CCRC residents state-wide. At GHBC, VaCCRA has provided important information through Civics 101 sessions.

There are no limits! Energy flows, imagination abounds, and we are endlessly exploring possibilities at Goodwin House Bailey’s Crossroads.

More than 80 individuals have joined Goodwin House at Home (GHAH) and are living comfortably and independently in their home of choice with a plan for the future. GHAH provides a flexible and customizable approach to aging that addresses each individual situation and gives members control of the decisions affecting their lives.

GHAH encourages members to explore all possibilities. Members may choose to remain at home as they age or they may decide to move to Goodwin House or to a new home. Over the past year, three members moved—two to Goodwin House and one to another state to be closer to family.

A Member Services Facilitator (MSF) is assigned to each GHAH member. The MSF develops a relationship with the member built on mutual trust. They understand the member’s goals for independence and decision making choices for well-being. Should a member need assistance with daily activities such as bathing and dressing, the MSF coordinates the services required for as long as needed and ensures that the member’s needs are met. GHAH pays for the member’s care according to the financial plan chosen by the member.

During 2016, several members had unexpected situations, which required care at home for a short period of time. The MSF coordinated their home care as needed, and GHAH paid for the care based on their plan.

Remaining active and engaged is important to successful aging. GHAH offers social events to bring members together for networking, educational sessions, and just good fun. GHAH offsets a portion of the cost for GHAH members to join local “villages” that are part of a nationwide movement that links volunteers to help neighbors who wish to stay in homes they love as they age. Villages offer an array of programs and events for their members; there are many villages in DC and throughout Northern Virginia, located in areas such as Alexandria, Arlington, Lake Barcroft, and Mount Vernon.

GHAH is all about exploring possibilities. We look forward to exploring more of them in 2017.
Goodwin House (GH) has a vision: to expand the places and ways we serve older adults. To support this vision, the Goodwin House Community Accountability Committee seeks to make a positive impact on the lives of seniors and the issues affecting seniors. The committee’s goal is to work with other community groups to develop partnerships, take actions that are effective and scalable, and improve lives to serve those not currently being served and allow us to be a conduit to help older adults thrive. The question is: What are we learning about older adults in Northern Virginia, and where are there synergies to do this work more effectively?

The Community Accountability Committee is comprised of Goodwin House Board members, resident leaders, and GH executives and senior staff. The committee, together with other resident and staff volunteers, works to fulfill the Goodwin House Organizational Value of Service: The call to service is the foundation of our mission.

COMMUNITY COLLABORATION TO REDUCE FALLS
Falls are one of the leading causes of both fatal and nonfatal injuries for adults ages 65 and older. The Administration on Aging reports that every 14 seconds an older adult is seen in an emergency room for a fall-related injury.

As executive director of Goodwin House at Home (GHAH), Karen Skeens knows how devastating falls can be for older adults. Thus, Skeens acted quickly when she read an email announcing a grant opportunity from the Administration on Aging, a program division within the Administration for Community Living, seeking to fund sustainable, evidence-based falls prevention programs.

Skeens reached out to our professional network, quickly gaining support, and within two weeks, Goodwin House, Marymount University and INOVA Health System had agreed to become partners in applying for the grant. Together, they recruited an additional 14 public and private organizations serving Alexandria City, Fairfax County, Arlington County, and Loudon County, which became founding members of the “Northern Virginia Falls Prevention Network.” In August 2016, the group received the news that they were awarded a two-year grant to fund the development and implementation of this network.

Holly Hanisian, GH director of corporate administration and program director for the grant, reports that the grant has two goals: 1) significantly increase the number of older adults who are at risk for falls to participate in evidence-based falls prevention programs; and 2) through innovative partnerships and collaborations, embed these falls prevention programs into an integrated Northern Virginia Falls Prevention Network.

As lead partner for establishing the programs, Goodwin House staff is working toward the goal of holding 116 fall prevention classes throughout Northern Virginia that will reach nearly 1,400 adults ages 65 and older. In addition, Goodwin House hosted falls prevention class training sessions, developed website and marketing collateral, and hosted pilot programs of the Stay Active and Independent for Life (SAIL) falls prevention classes.
LAZARUS MINISTRY PROVIDES FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

West End Lazarus Ministry (WEL) began operations in September 2015 at Alexandria’s Church of the Resurrection, next door to Goodwin House Alexandria (GHA). Currently, five GHA residents volunteer at WEL and the GHA Memorial Chapel Outreach Committee recently approved a $4,000 grant to support WEL’s efforts. These funds, as well as two earlier grants made to WEL, are derived from the GHA Memorial Chapel plate collections.

Outreach Committee Chair Pierre Shostal said, “The Ministry supports Alexandria residents who seek emergency financial assistance by offering modest amounts of financial support, advocacy, and case management.” WEL is funded by the Region IV Episcopal churches, and is staffed by volunteers from these churches as well as GHA. Demand for help from WEL has increased steadily, and in the current fiscal year, it is projected that $108,000 will be needed.

Other initiatives supported by GHA’s Chapel Outreach Committee included the annual Angel Tree project; this year’s beneficiary was Alexandria’s Carpenter’s Shelter. The GHA Knitter’s Group made caps, scarves, mittens and other knitted items that also were provided to Carpenter’s Shelter. The Committee organized a Lenten Series on the topic “Caring for God’s Creation,” exploring the theme from a spiritual perspective as well as through an examination of what is happening on a global, local, and GHA community level.
GOODWIN HOUSE STAFF
Goodwin House staff provided more than 20,000 hours of clinical supervision for students pursuing careers in the health sciences and/or education in caring for older adults from the following colleges, universities, seminaries, and clinical programs:

CULMORE CLINIC & GOODWIN HOUSE: A PARTNERSHIP TO SAVE LIVES

A call to service is at the heart of many residents who reside at Goodwin House, and no more so than GHBC resident Rita Siebanaler, a Licensed Clinical Social Worker. She had been volunteering at the Arlington Free Clinic for years and was in the habit of collecting church bulletins as a way of notifying her patients of the benefits available to them in the Arlington community. One bulletin mentioned a newly established Culmore Clinic, serving Bailey’s Crossroads area. Mrs. Siebanaler contacted Terry O’Hara Lavoie, Co-Founder & Executive Director of the Clinic. The two women met to discuss the health access needs of low-income Arlington residents, the mission and vision of the Clinic to address those needs, and the volunteer resources needed to support the effort. Mrs. Siebanaler quickly decided to support Culmore Clinic, developing forms and policies, and assisting with recruiting volunteers from Goodwin House. The rest is Goodwin House and Culmore Clinic history!

Volunteers from Goodwin House Bailey’s Crossroads and Goodwin House Alexandria are an integral part of Culmore Clinic’s volunteer support team. This volunteer support is critical to the operation of the Clinic, as the medically trained resources need to be directed toward patient care. “We realized that the clinicians were spending an hour of their time unpacking medical supplies, and that hour was lost time in which they could be serving patients,” noted volunteer Precilla Mott. “We saw a wonderful opportunity for Goodwin House residents to go to the Clinic in advance of the clinicians to set up the exam rooms,” added another volunteer, Dr. Ben Wilmot.

Since 2013, Goodwin House residents have volunteered on the weekly set up teams. With the support of Goodwin House volunteers, the clinicians are now able to spend 100% of their time on direct patient care.
Fiscal Year 2016 was a year of continued financial strength for Goodwin House. Operating results were excellent. We continued to experience strong demand for apartments at all levels of care. For independent living, we were effectively fully occupied after taking into account normal turnover. Investment returns were positive and in line with the overall market.

Sales of available apartments were strong, with a turnover of 55 homes during the year, plus an additional 37 new Goodwin House at Home members. During Fiscal Year 2016, total entry fees raised for new Lifecare contracts were $19.2 million.

During the year, Goodwin House continued to make improvements to its facilities. Using the proceeds of the $73 million bond offering from May 2015, we made substantial progress on building our new 90-bed Health Care Center at Goodwin House Alexandria. We look forward to Fiscal Year 2017 for the completion of the Health Care Center, as well as the other improvements to our existing buildings, which will include new independent living and assisted living homes, new dining venues, and other enhancements to the first floor common area. We are planning for the completion and occupancy of the Health Care Center in June 2017, followed by the completion of the existing building improvements in early 2018.

Our balance sheet substantially improved during Fiscal Year 2016 with the refinancing of the Series 2007 debt, which took advantage of historically low interest rates. This refinancing positions us well for improved capital capacity for years to come, helping to ensure the financial soundness of Goodwin House for both current and future generations. Our liquidity levels are strong, providing a cushion against market fluctuations in the coming years.

Reflecting the overall market, our investment portfolio experienced a positive return and is poised to benefit from further improvements in the overall economy. Believing that the economy will remain strong, we have positioned our portfolio to take advantage of this strength. Our financial strength is once again reflected in our investment grade rating of BBB by the Fitch Ratings Agency. This positive rating allows us to be competitive in the financial marketplace and gives us more flexibility as we pursue growth opportunities and maintain the value of our existing debt.

Another aspect of our growth plans is our investment in the Goodwin House Development Corporation, which helps to fund opportunities that allow Goodwin House to spread its footprint and provide more opportunities to serve older adults. As of year-end 2016, we have committed a total of $16 million for this purpose.

The Goodwin House Foundation continues to explore possibilities through creative fundraising and program offerings. Our first-ever fundraising campaign ended in FY2015, yet gifts continued to be received well into FY2016. The Foundation was very pleased when the campaign surpassed the $4.5 million mark on its original goal of $3 million.

Gifts given to this campaign support the Goodwin House Fellowship Program, which helps us keep the promise Goodwin House makes to residents – they never will have to leave their Goodwin House homes should they outlive their financial resources. In FY2016, $881,442 in Fellowship support was awarded to 50 residents.

With the campaign being such a success, the Foundation explored the possibility of undertaking a second campaign as part of the Goodwin House 50th anniversary year in 2017. Engaging a consulting firm, the Foundation evaluated its readiness and the receptivity of its donors for such a campaign. The decision was made to wait until later to undertake a second major fundraising effort and instead to focus on launching a momentous anniversary celebration for Goodwin House.

To start Goodwin House off on a festive foot for a year that holds great promise, the Foundation titled the 2017 Goodwin House Calendar “Celebrations!” It will be a year to recognize and honor 50 years at GHA, 30 years at GHBC, the opening of the new GHA Health Care Center, and the 100th member of Goodwin House at Home.

Grants of $1,565,883 were made to the following Goodwin House programs: Fellowship, Clinical Pastoral Education, Community Matching Gift Program, Quality of Life, Ruth Anderson Leadership Development, Knoll Garden, Palliative Care & Hospice, GHA/GHBC Arts Festivals, Friends Helping Friends, Geraldine Smith Concert Series, Alice Story Biache, Young At Art, GHA Musical Program & Entertainment, GHA/GHBC Chapels & Organ Fund, and the Ruby and Standau Weinbrecht Fund.
Incorporated in 1989, the Goodwin House Foundation is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit supporting foundation, and is registered as a public charity with the Commonwealth of Virginia. It is governed by a board of directors (see page 5) and staff members include: Executive Director Jeanne G. Jacob, CAE, CFRE; Director of Development Marcia J. Saumweber, and Executive Assistant Barbara Schmidt.

The Goodwin House Foundation thanks its many generous donors, including the Lettie Pate Whitehead Foundation which awarded GHF $211,500 in FY2016. Thanks to the amazing support of our donors, the Foundation provided $1,565,883 in Fellowship awards and program grants. Please see pages 20 – 30 to read about our fundraising efforts and 18 programs. Plus, we awarded $25,696 in grants to 17 community partners (other local nonprofits with programs for seniors) through the Community Matching Gift Program (CMGP). Since this program’s start in 2002, GHF has matched $335,839 from residents for a total of $671,678 given to support CMGP Partners.

For 27 years, the Goodwin House Foundation has raised more than $25 million to support older adults in Northern Virginia. It provides quality programs that allow residents, members, and staff to continue to explore possibilities!
Donations have enabled the Foundation to initiate and maintain programs that provide opportunities for both residents and staff. The Foundation is grateful, honored, and fortunate to have the support of the generous donors listed in the following pages of this report. Whether gifts were made to the Annual Appeal, Fellowship Campaign, in Memory of a loved one or friend, or given to Honor someone special, donors are recognized by including their names in the appropriate Giving Societies or Clubs.

The Bishop Chilton Society, named after Samuel B. Chilton, Bishop Suffragan of Virginia from 1960–1969, honors individuals who have included Goodwin House Foundation in their estate plans using gift annuities, charitable trusts, gifts of life insurance, gifts made from IRAs or bequests. Donors are encouraged to advise the Foundation, if they have included the Foundation in their estate plans.

The Anne Lee Society recognizes donors whose cumulative gifts total more than $100,000. Founders of the Anne Lee Home for the Aged set an example of lifelong support for residents, even when they had to close their Home and move their residents to Goodwin House. In similar fashion, members of this Society provide for the lifelong care of Goodwin House residents who outlive their resources.

The Benjamin M. Smith Society was named in honor of Benjamin M. Smith, a local businessman and Methodist layman, who donated the land upon which Goodwin House Alexandria was built. Donors making gifts of $5,000 to $9,999 are included in this gift category.

The Edward Smith Society honors donors making gifts of $1,000 to $4,999. In 1985, Edward Smith made a gift that funded the initial studies that led to the development of Goodwin House Bailey’s Crossroads. He served Goodwin House with unflagging commitment.

The Bishop Philip A. Smith Society honors the many life-long contributions of Bishop Philip A. Smith who served two terms as a Director on the Goodwin House Foundation Board. He was Episcopal Bishop of New Hampshire from 1972 until 1986, and after his retirement, lived at Goodwin House Alexandria. Foundation donors making gifts between $500 and $999 are members of this Giving Society.

The Annual Giving Club includes donors who give consecutively for 5, 10, 15, or 20 years. The number following a donor’s name indicates the number of consecutive years the donor has made gifts to the Foundation.

We hope that donors will be pleased to see their charitable gifts at work, building a stronger Foundation and a stronger Goodwin House family.

RESIDENT/MEMBER PROGRAMS

THE FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM

What separates Goodwin House from many other continuing care retirement communities is its promise to residents that they never will have to leave their Goodwin House homes should they outlive their financial resources. Through a financial safety net called the Fellowship Program, residents can live with peace of mind knowing that Goodwin House always will meet their housing and service needs.

Through the generosity of the Lettie Pate Whitehead Foundation, the Ivakota Foundation, The Sackett Fund, the Minor Lyman Trust, many business partners, and numerous individual donors, the Goodwin House Foundation was able to assist 50 residents in need by granting $881,442 in Fellowship support in FY2016.

“I want to offer my most grateful thanks for the gift Goodwin House has given me – a place to spend my later years, a gift of security, and a beautiful place to call home.”

CLINICAL PASTORAL EDUCATION PROGRAM

Now in its 18th year, Goodwin House Foundation financially supports the Goodwin House Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) program. The CPE Program benefits students expecting to work in parish ministry or in specialized ministry settings and provides them with opportunities to work with and learn from older adults through their internship at Goodwin House communities. During a CPE term, students have an opportunity to develop skills and develop long-term relationships as one would in a ministry setting. The students focus on pastoral care as well as personal and spiritual development. A unique feature of the Goodwin House CPE program is that it gives students an opportunity to serve residents who are receiving care from Goodwin House Palliative Care & Hospice. Goodwin House is one of a few continuing care retirement communities to have a nationally accredited CPE program. To date, more than 232 students from across the United States and from overseas have participated in this unique program. In FY2016, Goodwin House Foundation provided $177,766 to underwrite the CPE Program.

“Our family will be forever grateful for the love and care our mother received at the end of her life, including the blessings of ministry in her final days.”

EXPLORING POSSIBILITIES
QUALITY OF LIFE
Launched in 2010, the Quality of Life (QOL) program continues to be an example of how Goodwin House Foundation inspires residents in innovative and creative ways. What started as a collaborative effort between GHA residents John and Glenys Dyer and the Goodwin House Foundation quickly expanded to include GHBC residents and GHAH members. The purpose of QOL is to encourage more activity and social interaction among Goodwin House residents. The program increases the social opportunities available to residents and GHAH members by supporting resident- and or member-directed activities that fall outside the operating budgets of the GH communities. Since its inception, the QOL Program has granted $129,715 for 83 programs that engaged more than 930 residents and members. QOL Committee members are Ken Butler, Jack King, Peg Lorenz, Jackie Phillips, Anne Stewart, Frank Wade, Faye Woodrow, and Jeanette Wurster.

In 2016, the Goodwin House Foundation provided $3,497 in QOL grants for the following programs:

Goodwin House Alexandria
- Birthday Cake for Marine Corps Birthday Celebration
- Two Lunches to Honor Volunteers

Goodwin House Bailey’s Crossroads
- Knit for Kids
- Music and Memory
- Green Team Trip to US Botanical Gardens
- Pollinator Garden
- Stipend for Lecturer for Spiritual Companies Group
- Bible Study Picnic
- Christmas Organ Concert

The Goodwin House Foundation welcomes additional gifts to continue the work of the Quality of Life program.

"We want to thank Goodwin House Foundation for the generous Quality of Life grant that enabled the GHBC Grounds Committee to tour Green Springs Garden Park. The various fine resources at the garden are very helpful to us as we manage our beloved Knoll Garden."

CHARITABLE GIFT ANNUITIES
The Foundation has offered Charitable Gift Annuities (CGA) since 1995. Currently, the Foundation manages nearly $2 million of CGAs for 78 residents, GHAH members, staff, Board members, and friends of Goodwin House. The minimum amount to open a CGA is $5,000, but there is no maximum. CGAs may be written for one or two annuitants. Interest rates vary per age of the annuitant, but once the CGA is established, the rate is fixed for life.
When our aunt was near the end of her life, every aspect of navigating our way through the process was handled beautifully by Goodwin House Palliative Care & Hospice. She lived not just in a “good place,” but in a loving and caring community.

GOODWIN HOUSE PALLIATIVE CARE & HOSPICE

Goodwin House Palliative Care & Hospice (GHPCH) was created so residents who seek this type of care can be served by the Goodwin House staff they already know and upon whom they rely. GHPCH provides resources to support and enhance the quality of life for residents in their final days. At the center of the program is the belief that every individual should be able to die pain free with dignity, and that their families should receive the support they need as well. Gifts made to GHPCH are used to provide care not covered by insurance, special education for staff, and support for residents and families. As new and increasingly effective palliative care and hospice treatments become available, support of this program is vital to residents.

In FY2016, GHPCH served 112 patients with a budget slightly greater than $1 million. The Goodwin House Foundation raises money for GHPCH to provide extras services and care not typically included or coverage by insurance. Such extras include special beds for hospice patients, educational materials for families, clinical pastoral support, etc. In FY2016, this special fund had reached $210,123.

PROGRAMS BENEFITING STAFF

CONTINUING EDUCATION PROGRAM FUND

To provide residents with the highest quality of life possible, Goodwin House staff must be trained in the best practices of caring for older adults. Goodwin House believes that access to high-quality, university-based training that incorporates current research on gerontology and the changing needs of older adults, is critically important for our staff. In FY2016, Goodwin House spent $131,552 on continuing education for 76 staff.

I love Goodwin House!
It supports me, and I plan on staying here to support the residents.

I love Goodwin House! It supports me, and I plan on staying here to support the residents.
RUTH ANDERSON LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT FUND
Goodwin House is committed to providing formal leadership development opportunities for GH staff recognized as emerging leaders. These efforts benefit the staff, the residents served, and the field of nonprofit senior living. Goodwin House Foundation raises funds to support these efforts, and GH identifies employees who will benefit from these opportunities. This program was initiated in fiscal year 2010, and currently has $43,024 available to assist emerging leaders.

ALICE STORY BIACHE FELLOWSHIP AWARDS
This fund is named after Alice Story Biache, who served Goodwin House as Senior Vice President of Professional Services for 25 years. After Ms. Biache’s death in 1998, her family created the fund to support nursing staff members in furthering their education. These awards help fund expenses such as textbooks, uniforms, parking, and childcare that are not covered by other Goodwin House education programs. In FY2016, $12,000 was awarded to 16 staff members.

FRIENDS HELPING FRIENDS
Initiated in 2008, Friends Helping Friends is a staff-to-staff fundraising program that helps Goodwin House staff facing financial stress during the holidays by providing them with resources to purchase food and gifts for their families. In FY2016, $3,625 was raised for Friends Helping Friends, which enabled us to assist 33 staff members and their families.

RUBY AND STANDAU WEINBRECHT FUND
Established in 2016 through a generous gift by GHA resident Ruby Weinbrecht, the Ruby and Standau Weinbrecht Fund honors Goodwin House Alexandria staff members by offering three different programs to them throughout the year. These include: scholarships for GHA staff who wish to continue their education; arts programs to encourage staff to have the personal experience of creating their own art, and staff socials each quarter so staff have the opportunity to mingle with their colleagues. The programs are organized by the GHA Human Resources Department along with the Foundation.
Our parents loved the variety of activities and programs at Goodwin House. They made new friends and memories and were renewed by the mental and physical stimulation.
COMMUNITY MATCHING GIFT PROGRAM
The mission of Goodwin House is furthered by identifying and serving the needs of older adults in the greater Northern Virginia region. Since 2002, the Goodwin House Foundation has offered a unique program called the Community Matching Gift Program (CMGP) that extends the mission of Goodwin House to 17 nonprofit organizations serving older adults who do not live in a Goodwin House community. CMGP matches donations made by Goodwin House residents to these specified organizations. Each year, depending upon the amount budgeted, the money donated by residents is matched dollar-for-dollar up to $500 per donor and $5,000 per organization. In FY2016, Goodwin House Foundation matched residents’ gifts for a total of $25,696. Since inception, CMGP has matched $335,839 of resident gifts, for a total of $671,678 awarded to support seniors in Northern Virginia.

YOUNG AT ART
Goodwin House Foundation and Senior Services of Alexandria (one of our Community Matching Gift Program Partners) co-sponsor Young At Art, an annual juried art show for adults 55 years of age or older in the DC metro area. In 2016, Young At Art celebrated its 30th Anniversary with 65 artists entering more than 175 pieces of art, of which 93 pieces were selected for exhibit at the Durant Arts Center in Alexandria. Goodwin House Foundation provides financial support and extensive in-kind staff support to this program. The exhibit was on display from early October through late November with the opening reception hosted by Goodwin House Foundation and 10 other generous sponsors. Honored that evening were ten award winners and the juror of the show, Chris Haggerty, Professor of Fine and Applied Arts at Marymount University.

GOODWIN HOUSE FOUNDATION CALENDAR

Exploring Possibilities was the theme of the 2016 Goodwin House Calendar, the 19th calendar published by the Goodwin House Foundation. Each year, the calendar features a broad range of residents’ interests and talents. More than 11,000 calendars are provided free of charge to residents, their families, staff, foundation donors, local churches to use as gifts to their elderly or home bound members, and other nonprofit organizations in the community. The calendar is just one of many vehicles that the Goodwin House Foundation uses to reach out to the Northern Virginian community to increase the visibility of Goodwin House and the artistic talents of seniors. By publishing this calendar, the Foundation applauds the creativity of the artists who always are exploring possibilities, is able to thank its generous donors, and shares with others the many creative options that are a part of Goodwin House.

ARTS FESTIVALS

Goodwin House Foundation is proud to support arts festivals that celebrate the many creative expressions of residents living in Goodwin House communities. Their creativity is showcased through painting, drawing, sculpture, music, dance, photography, gardening, flower arranging, and jewelry making. At the GHA Arts Festival, held the weekend of June 17-19, the Foundation hosted a night of laughter by sponsoring “Happiness Coach” Nira Berry, the movie Bringing Up Baby, and several Looney Tunes, animated short cartoons from the Golden Era. Goodwin House Foundation Board Chair Gant Redmon served as master of ceremonies and Foundation staff served as theatre ushers and popcorn vendors.

GERALDINE SMITH CONCERT SERIES

In 2007, in memory of GHBC resident Geraldine Smith, her family made a grant to establish a classical music concert series. Mrs. Smith lived at GHBC for 16 years until her death in December 2006. She had a life-long appreciation of classic music that started when she studied the violin as a young woman. She also loved living at Goodwin House. Combining these two loves, her family decided to honor her by starting this concert series for GHBC residents and staff.

"Classical music is like meditation. It calms and transplants me to a place beyond mundane daily life."
FREE EYE GLASSES
For several years, the Lions Club of Bailey’s Crossroads has worked with the Goodwin House Foundation to distribute free reading and sun glasses to Goodwin House residents and staff. In 2016, distribution fairs were held at both Goodwin House campuses, and more than 1,200 pairs of glasses were selected by residents and staff.

I am writing a note of appreciation for my handsome new pair of spectacles that bring more clarity to those occasions when I am the lector in the chapel. The Goodwin House Foundation and the local chapter of Lions Club International make a spectacular and wonderful partnership!

GOODWIN HOUSE CHAPELS AND ORGAN FUNDS
In 2016, Goodwin House Foundation began providing support directly to the GHA and GHBC Chapels by raising money for a new organ at GHBC and acknowledging offerings and donations made to both Chapels. Included in the acknowledgments were letters noting cumulative year-end gifts for IRS tax purposes. In 2016, $28,479 was raised for both chapels.

I greatly appreciate this support from the Foundation. We have seen our offerings increase due to the letters of thanks residents have received.

GHBC KNOLL GARDEN
The Foundation raises funds for Knoll Garden, a special garden designed and maintained by residents. These funds provide additional plants, trees, equipment, and professional services for the care and maintenance of the garden. The Foundation also accepts funds for special projects, such as the Sculpture Garden adjacent to Knoll Garden, which was made possible through a generous donation from a GHBC resident. These gardens’ quiet walking paths, benches, and sculptures provide a place of solace and beauty for residents, their families, staff, and visitors.
The following Giving Societies include the names of donors who made gifts to the Goodwin House Foundation in Fiscal Year 2016 (October 1, 2015 through September 30, 2016). The Foundation is grateful for their generous support. Through this continued support, the Foundation is able to fund the Goodwin House programs included on pages 23 through 30.

Beginning with Fiscal Year 2016, the Goodwin House Foundation is recognizing donors for their consecutive years of giving. The Annual Giving Club includes donors who give consecutively (given every year) in 5 year increments (“5,” “10,” “15,” “20”). The number following the donor’s name indicates the number of consecutive years the donor has made gifts to the Goodwin House Foundation.

A Commemorative gift is a meaningful way to honor friends and loved ones. It is a way to express gratitude for acts of kindness; recognize joyous occasions such as birthdays, anniversaries, or promotions; or express condolences to families of deceased friends or acquaintances. Goodwin House Foundation is thankful for the following Honorary and Memorial gifts received during Fiscal Year 2016.

We all have possibilities we don’t know about. We can do things we don’t even dream we can do.

Dale Carnegie

Sometimes I’ve believed as many as six impossible things before breakfast.

Lewis Carroll

If I were to wish for anything, I should not wish for wealth and power, but for the passionate sense of the potential, for the eye which, ever young and ardent, sees the possible. Pleasure disappoints, possibility never. And what wine is so sparkling, what so fragrant, what so intoxicating, as possibility!

Soren Kierkegaard

Shoot for the moon. Even if you miss, you’ll land among the stars.

Les Brown

I am where I am because I believe in all possibilities.

Whoopi Goldberg
